Hi Cherise: per our conversation, Caleb (landscape architect with Coral Studios and resident at Leigh Street) and I would like to present the attached Labor Street Park plan to the LNA Board. Parks & Rec already has a list of parks projects that they are going to submit to the City Manager's office so I think the time to strike is now even if we don't have a fully baked plan. If we wait around, we risk losing another five years to another bond cycle. We can add some language that the plan is subject to change but that an investment should be made at Labor Street park to complement the growing neighborhood and to build some additional features that may be modified over time with development.
